

June 18, 2004

Contact: David Evangelista
(407) 566-1045
devangelista.golf@celebration.fl.us

For Immediate Release

Celebration Golf Academy to Host “Festival of Golf” Saturday, June 26, 2004

Celebration, Fla. – The Golf Academy at Celebration Golf Club is sponsoring the Inaugural “Festival of Golf” on Saturday, June 26, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The half-day event at is complimentary and open to the general public.

Golfers of all abilities are invited to participate in such activities as a Ping Club Demonstration; the Nike Short Game and Putting Challenge; “Golf 101”, a questions and answer session about the basics of golf; an Interactive Golf Academy; a Short Game Exhibition & Instruction; and the legendary “McDivot’s Patch”, a golf demonstration and exhibition by Celebration’s own Kenny “McDivot” Nairn.

Nairn, a Scottish PGA Member from St. Andrews, Scotland, and the Director of Instruction at Celebration Golf Club, said the festival will offer a wide range of demonstrations, instruction, fun events for the whole family, and much more. “This is a family event,” Nairn said. “The instruction and events are geared towards every level - from the non-golfer to the most advanced player.”

Celebration Golf Academy is home to approximately 350 active students of all ages and abilities. Winner of the National Golf Course Owners Association “Player Development Award”, the Golf Academy offers a vast array of instruction programs, from private to group. It will host over 150 juniors in summer golf camp programs.

The Golf Academy at Celebration is located at 701 Golf Park Drive in the town of Celebration. For additional information, telephone The Golf Academy at 407-566-GOLF, Extension 4.

Celebration Golf Club is rated 4 ½ Stars and in the Top 200 in North America for Service and Course Conditioning by Golf Digest’s “Best Places to Play” 2004-2005.

<http://www.celebrationgolf.com/>

* * *